THEORY OF CHANGE

thing is designed and...

Your tactics can make a difference, but your strategy—your commitment to a way of being and a story to be told and a promise to be made—can change everything.

If you want to make change, begin by making culture. Begin by organizing a tightly knit group. Begin by getting people in sync.

Culture beats strategy—so much that culture is strategy.

It's tempting to just dive into the data when you're designing a program or creating a strategy.

But starting with a specific, answerable question will keep you focused, helping you discover actionable insights.

Data Breakfast Club

Tuesday, February 13, 2024

Come at 8:30AM
Head out by 9:30 AM
424 Decatur St, Atlanta 30312

RSVP Required

Goals

1. Provide a space to have productive conversations with peers, whether technical or emotional support
2. Decenter Nexus from every data conversation — directly connect people from different sectors (nonprofit, public, academic, private) to one another
3. Quicker and more specific technical support from peers
4. Make it easier for orgs to acquire talent and tools

Needs

1. Corporate sponsors for events
2. Philanthropic support for staffing and adjacent capacity-building efforts
